Here and There

Editorial By ALEX. H. WASHBURN

WHEN you go to the polls Tuesday, November 6, vote for Governor Futrell's amendments (19 and 20), vote for the Hempstead County Salary Act (Initiative Act No. 1) and the regular three-mill road tax—and scratch the rest.

Payne Leads Hope to 33-0 Victory on Rain-Soaked Field

He Scores 2 Touchdowns, Madison 2, Against Arkadelphia

HARD-FOUGHT GAME

Payne's 76-Yard Run Is Feature of the Second Half

Paced by the fleet Guy Payne, the Hope High School Bobcats crushed Arkadelphia here Friday night in a drizzling rain, 33 to 0, to hang up their fifth victory of the season.

Payne scored two touchdowns, Ken Madison a pair, and Owens fell on the ball behind the Arkadelphia goal after Captain Kennedy had raced through to block a punt, for the fifth touchdown.

Taking the ball on the opening kickoff, Stroud, halfback, made a nice return of 30 yards to place the ball in midfield. On the first attempt, Payne swept around end for 27 yards. Stroud and Spears ripped the line for eight yards and Payne picked up several more for a first down.

With the ball on the two-yard line, Payne went through the line for a touchdown as a shower of rain fell on the field. Spears plunged for the extra point, and the Bobcats were out in front with a 7-point lead before the game was hardly five minutes old.

Rain slows up game. Rain slowed up the Bobcat ball carriers and there was no more scoring in the first quarter. Despite a slippery field, only one fumble was made throughout the game.

After a punting duel in the early part of the second period the Bobcats marched to the 10-yard line after Madison had returned a punt to the Arkadelphia 35-yard line. However, Arkadelphia held to turn back the scoring threat.

The second Hope touchdown came a few minutes later when Madison heaved a beautiful pass to Jack Turner. It was good for 26 yards. Turner was brought down within four yards of the goal line. The visitors drew a two-yard penalty. From that point Madison plunged over. Attempt to kick goal failed.

Arkadelphia received. The Badgers were unable to gain and punted as the half ended.

The second half. The second half with more punch and determination than at any stage of the game except a belated drive in the final minutes of play, but were unable to advance the ball into the danger zone.

The bog Bobcat line began rushing through to smaller play after play. And then came a break. Captain Kennedy broke through to block a punt, the ball rolling over the Arkadelphia goal line. Owens, Bobcat guard, recovered for a touchdown. Turner attempted to kick for extra point, but the ball sailed wide of the goal posts.

Arkadelphia received and another punting duel followed. Madison and Anderson being outshadowed by the fine kicking of the Arkadelphia back. The Bobcats finally gained possession.

'You Can't Turn Back on Crime Road'

Floyd Gave This Message to Girl in Only Interview

Law Wouldn't Let Him Go Straight, Oklahoman Declared

Bandit Keeps Tryst at Hill Farm to Bare His Life Story

This is the last of three stories on the life of "Pretty Boy" Floyd, written by Vivian Brown, of the Oklahoma News, the only person who interviewed the outlaw during his crime career. A native of the Cookson hills, she knows the background of Floyd's life as few writers could.

By VIVIAN BROWN

Written for NEA Service
My ride on a crisp November afternoon in 1932 to keep my rendezvous with "Pretty Boy" Floyd is stamped indelibly on my memory.

And the eight months of negotiations that led to this tryst is a period of my life that I'll never forget.

The inspiration came suddenly to me one spring evening in 1932 to arrange an interview with the hero-villain of the hills and it was a tortuous trail that I followed, one of weary dickering, as I inched toward my goal, overcoming the suspicions of the hill folk, little by little gaining their confidence.

Long conversations with law-abiding friends of the bandit, conferences with distant relatives, trip after trip to the hills to convince the canny natives that I was what I claimed to be, stretched from spring until the day in early October that I was instructed to write a letter to Floyd and hand it to one of his friends.

A few days later came my answer, penciled by Floyd, expressing willingness to see me, but setting no date or specifying other arrangements.

The Great Trip Starts
On November 1, "Pretty Boy" staged his famous homecoming, robbing the Sallisaw, Okla., bank of $5000.

The holdup was a hilarious success, with Floyd wisecracking as he lined up his boyhood cronies and scattering some of the money in the street as he made his getaway.

About 4 p. m., two days after the Sallisaw robbery, I came home from business school to find a stranger sitting in a car in front of the house.

"Are you Vivian Brown?" he asked. "Yes."

"I'm from Jess (Jess Ring, Mrs. Floyd's uncle), he said, without introducing himself. "Are you ready to go?"

Hurriedly, I dropped my books, grabbed pencil and paper, and climbed in the car with him.

We drove through the business part of Muskogee and headed west toward Okmulgee. All of eastern Oklahoma, aroused by the Sallisaw robbery, was searching for Pretty Boy.

Fearful of Slippage
Every time a car passed my heart would be in my mouth. It might be loaded with "laws," looking for Pretty Boy. I knew that, if something happened, they would think I tipped off the officers.

About 30 miles west, we turned left on a county road and drove through a cotton field to a large corn field. The road, now only a path in the fields, turned right, hugging the bank of a small stream that had cut a deep and ugly gully through the farms. We passed two squat houses, plodded down in the corn of the bottom tract.

Thick underbrush and several large pecan trees rimmed the gully. Under the shade of one tree was a tan coupe, parked almost on the edge of the bank and several feet from the dirt road. We drove alongside, stopping in the road.

And There Was Floyd
Floyd, completely at ease, stepped out of the other car. I had seen his pictures in the papers, but under different circumstances I doubt if I should ever have picked him for a criminal.

His dark suit was well-tailored and recently pressed. He wore a white shirt, and a carefully knotted tie. The terror of the Oklahoma band-lancers, carrying himself lightly, walk-or-nonchalantly out to the road. But...

Denville Ellis and Hanson Rothwell were married Saturday afternoon. They will make their home with her parents, for a while.

Grocer Stores to Open; Strike Ends

Cleveland Dispute of A. & P. Co. Settled by Labor Board

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The Labor Relations Board announced Saturday that the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. and the unions concerned in the labor dispute at its Cleveland stores had agreed to a settlement proposed by the board.

The settlement calls for reopening of the Cleveland stores which were closed a week ago; all employees to be taken back without discrimination; future disputes to be submitted to arbitration, the unions involved agreeing not to strike before next June 16.

Stores to Reopen
CLEVELAND, Ohio.—(AP)—The 300 stores and warehouses of the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. will reopen the middle of the coming week, company officials said Saturday.

The stores have been closed the past week during a labor dispute between the company and its employees.

Benton Leads Spa for Three Periods

Frightens Hot Springs, Though Latter Finally Wins 25-6

THOROUGHLY outplayed for a half and hardly holding their own during the third period, the Hot Springs Trojans, paced by the redoubtable Paul Longinotti, rallied sensationally in the final period to score 25 points and defeat the surprising Benton Panthers, 25 to 6, here Friday night.

An approximate crowd of 5,000 saw the Saline county youngsters lead the Trojans for three quarters before wilting under the aerial and running fire of Longinotti.

All of the Hot Springs touchdowns were accounted for by Paul the Great, who threw three scoring passes and personally registered the other touchdown. The first was a 15-yard pass to Capt. Ken Lovell. The second was a 27-yard flip to Donald Hawkins, a converted guard playing at end. Longinotti cut through tackle for the third and clinaxed this stellar exhibition by tossing a 38-yard heave to Hawkins.

The crowd was frantic after three quarters of watching Benton give the Trojans a most unexpected but convincing lesson of football. But after Longinotti's second touchdown forward, breaking the deadlock, momentum broke loose. Cushions flew all over the landscape and the stands resembled a glorified hug.

Legal Status of Special Tax Attorneys Questioned by Smith

Act 14 of 1933 Cited by Comptroller as Limiting Appointive Power of Attorney General

By TED H. MALOY
United Press Staff Correspondent

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—(AP)—State Comptroller Griffin Smith has questioned the attorney general's right to appoint special attorneys to collect delinquent corporation taxes under Act 14 of the 1933 legislature.

The comptroller quoted from the original Act 157 of the 1923 legislature on the subject and from the amendatory Act 14 of last year. The attorney general has quoted from the same acts in defense of his action.

Rep. Leo Myberg of Phillips county sought impeachment of Norwood in January 1933 on accusations which included payment of exorbitant fees to attorneys. Act 14 came from his agitation.

Section 1 of Act 157 provides that: "When there shall be past due and unpaid any special license fees, franchise tax, privilege tax, or other money due the state by individuals, officers, companies, firms or corporations, and when in his judgment it would be for the best interest of the state to do so the attorney general shall hereafter have authority to appoint special counsel, to take such steps as shall be necessary for the collection of all such sums as are now, or shall hereafter, be due and unpaid."

Section 2 of the same Act provided "such special counsel shall receive a reasonable compensation for his services, dependent on recovery, to be fixed by the attorney general where collection is made without suit and by the court" when settled by suit.

The attorney general's office accepted these sections literally. The comptroller has argued that an interpretation of the preamble confines the term "other money" in Section 1 to collections contemplated in the preamble. Smith pointed to Section 3 of the Act which says that "the venue of all such suits as are contemplated by the provisions of this act shall be in the chancery court of any county in Arkansas, where legal service of summons can be made."

Treating Section 3 as the only authority for filing suits involving collection of special counsel, the comptroller said, a limitation is placed which would exclude payment of any fees or the filing of any suits in a court of law. The venue in such cases, he holds, would essentially lie in chancery.

Payment of thousands of dollars of public funds to attorneys who never filed a suit, or who, if suits were filed, prosecuted them in circuit court, brought passage of Act 14 last year.

Little Rock Beats Fort Smith 25-0

Capital City Eleven Sweeps Through Western Border Team

LITTLE ROCK.—Playing heads-up football and taking advantage of everything that remotely resembled a scoring opportunity, the Little Rock High School Tigers took a 25-0 decision over the Fort Smith Grizzlies at Kavanaugh Field Friday night. It was the Tiger's night to roar, and about all the Grizzly could do was to slap back in a determined but ineffective manner.

The Tigers scored one touchdown in the first quarter, another in the second and two in the fourth. They dominated the play in every period except the third, when the Fort Smith lads came back after the half with their strongest bid. A series of late plays, the Grizzlies drove almost the length of the field, only to be stopped on the Little Rock 20-yard line.

The entire Tiger team looked good because its plays were clicking and because the line was charging hard and low. Fort Smith was somewhat demoralized by the fury of the Little Rock attack. Although he was kept under control for about 58 of the 60 minutes of play, Liberty, Fort Smith's husky fullback, showed plenty of ability to "take it," and he had a part in almost every yard of ground gained by the visitors.

Urges Re-Election of Governor Lehman of New York State

Roosevelt Clears Up Situation Regarding N. Y. Senator

HYDE PARK, N. Y.—(AP)—President Roosevelt came home Saturday to vote in Tuesday's election.

The president made the last lap of his trip by motor and was welcomed home by a host of home folks.

Before leaving the capital Friday night Roosevelt read a statement calling for the election of Governor Lehman of New York, intimate friend, and his former lieutenant-governor.

Secretary of the Treasurer Morganthau, also a resident of Dutchess county, New York, made the trip with the president.

The president upon his arrival hastened to correct any impression he would not support Senator Copeland, Democrat, for re-election. Roosevelt said he was going to vote for Copeland.

The president had said Friday it would be "amazing" to know how many times he had voted for individual Republicans—which statement was apparently misconstrued to apply to Copeland's senate race.

Oliver Williams Heads Kiwanis

Dale Jones Chosen Vice-President of Civic Organization

At its meeting Friday night, the local Kiwanis club elected Oliver Williams president of the club for the coming year and Dale Jones as vice-president.

The men selected to the board of directors are: W. S. Atkins, Joe R. Floyd, John P. Cox, Sid Bundy, Verne Whitten, R. V. Herndon and A. W. Stubbeman.

Mr. Williams, in charge of the program for the meeting, supplied the members with some very novel entertainment in the way of a harmonica trio composed of Jack Crank, Kenneth Crank and Briant Bundy, three very talented young boys under the supervision of Mrs. John Wellborn.

Following the boys' harmonica playing, Miss Harriet Story sang "Silent Night" and "The Song Is You," accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Wellborn.

John P. Cox will be in charge of the program for next Friday's program.

Like Father, Like Son, Is Truth Parent Must Learn If He'll Understand His Boy

The colon includes the large intestine, beginning with the cecum, from which goes the appendix, and including also the three parts—the ascending, transverse and descending colon. These in turn pass off into the sigmoid and rectum.

A famous British doctor, Arthur Hurst, once said, "The sins of the colon are its diseases, but I sometimes wonder if it is not more sinned against than sinning, for what with attacks from above with purgatives, attacks from below with enemata, and frontal attacks by the surgeon, its sorrows are numerous and real."

Functions of the colon include digestion of fibrous material, absorption of water, secretion of mucus, and formation and carrying away from the body of waste material from the digestive tract.

Persons differ in the rate at which material passes through the colon. In animals the cecum and the ascending colon are a reservoir in which food may be held for long periods of time. In man, however, food is not held for such long periods of time and is moved on fairly rapidly to excretion once it gets into the colon.

There are, however, cases in which the colon is more irritable than normal, and others in which it is less irritable. In these cases in which it is more irritable, food passes out very rapidly, with the symptom of diarrhea. Such diarrheas may arise purely from emotion, but are, of course, also associated with irritation of the colon by germs of various kinds and by such parasites as amebae.

There are also cases in which the nervous system is disorganized, causing contraction of the colon and resulting in a lessened activity and a "form" of constipation known as spastic constipation.

In cases in which there is lessened activity and irritability of the colon, it may be sluggish and fail to act. These are called cases of atonic constipation.

The colon is also affected by diseases in other parts of the abdomen, such as disturbances of the gallbladder and of the appendix. Occasionally the organs in women having to do with childbirth may become inflamed and because of their close relationship to the colon bring about reactions in that organ.

Food faddists of various kinds have attempted to control activities of the colon by peculiar diets. People who deliberately starve themselves to become thin, living largely on fruit and salads, fail to provide the colon with the proper amount of bulky material to stimulate its activity.

As a result, it fails to act properly. In other cases the colon is fed such materials as bran and a great deal of roughage. These throw a burden on many colons which they cannot carry and as a result irritability develops and the worst cases are those in which people become disturbed by the frequency of the activity of the bowels and urge themselves too much with strong cathartics.

Marie Lays Carol's Woes to His Tutor
—Queen Tells of Childhood of Rumanian King

Queen Marie of Rumania comes down from the mountain this month with her autobiography. It is entitled "The Story of My Life," and while it is aimed chiefly at the snob trade, it is thrilling to hear Queen Victoria called "Grandmother Victoria" and King Edward VII "Cousin Bertie." It does contain, here and there, a nugget of information.

You'll want to know, most of all, what he says about her son, King Carol? Very little, the volume ends with her coronation in 1914; but the little she does say is illuminating.

She complains that she didn't have much to say about his upbringing. When he was a baby, his father, King Carol, ruled Rumania, and he chose the tutor for the young prince and refused to let Marie have much influence over the child.

The chief tutor, says Marie, was a Swiss. He was a pathetic case mon-

The Clew of the Forgotten Murder

by CARLETON KENDRAKE

BEGIN HERE TODAY

When CHARLES MORDEN, reporter for The Blade, is found dead in the street, it is the end of a long and eventful life. The story of his death is the story of a man who had been investigating the murder of ALICE LORTON, a woman who had been found dead in the street. The story is a mystery, a thriller, and a tragedy. It is a story that has been forgotten, but it is a story that is worth remembering.

CHARLES MORDEN was a man of many talents. He was a reporter, a writer, and a man of great courage. He had been investigating the murder of ALICE LORTON for many months. He had been through many hardships, and he had been through many dangers. But he had not given up. He had been determined to find the truth, and he had been determined to bring the man who had killed ALICE LORTON to justice.

But now, he was dead. He was lying in the street, and no one knew who had killed him. The police were looking for him, but they had no idea where to look. They had no idea who had killed him. They had no idea what had happened.

The story of CHARLES MORDEN's death is a story that is worth remembering. It is a story that is a warning to all of us. It is a story that is a reminder that we must always be on our guard. It is a story that is a reminder that we must always be ready to face whatever comes our way.

Pioletless Plane "Cracks Up" Here

Flier, Cranking Engine, Forgets to Block Plane's Wheels

A pioletless airplane got loose on the aviation field here Friday afternoon, cut a few wild capers, and then crashed into a sign-board, damaging the plane to the extent of $100.

No one was hurt, except a few scratches to the owner of the plane, Markus Lowe of Gurdun.

Lowe, who had purchased the plane only recently, cranked the engine without blocking the wheels. It took off down the field, knocking Lowe to the ground.

He arose quickly and started in hot pursuit. He caught hold near the rear but was unable to get to the controls before it crashed into a sign board near the highway.

Lowe is a flying instructor. He makes frequent trips to this city taking up student fliers.

The plane is a small open-cockpit type.

Farm Surpluses to Nation's Hungry

Amount on Hand Is Certain to Carry Through Until Spring

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is counting on destitute families to eat away much of the farm produce before the winter ends.

Relief officials reported Thursday that enough beef to last the relief population until next spring would result from the slaughter of drought cattle. They predicted also that stocks of drought mutton would be cleaned up before the winter is over. Federal purchases of both have been accompanied by a pledge they would be kept off the market. This will contribute materially to fulfillment of the Agriculture Department's forecast that the number of most animals on farms at the end of the year will be the smallest in more than 35 years.

Another item on the relief menu is 50,000,000 pounds of surplus rice. It was purchased recently by the Surplus Relief Corporation in an effort to stabilize rice prices until a marketing agreement has had time to produce results.

There is a possibility that surplus oranges and grapefruit also may be served to the destitute this winter by the surplus relief organization.

Judgment Day Is Revivalist's Theme

Mrs. Beasley to Preach at Tabernacle for Next Two Weeks

Those who attended the Tabernacle Revival meeting Friday night were brought face to face with eternal issues as the Rev. Mrs. Beasley preached on "The Judgment." Her text was Heb. 9:27—"It is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment."

"No matter how consecrated Christian lives your parents may have lived," Mrs. Beasley said, "their godly lives will not take you to heaven. We must stand individually before the Judgment Throne of God. As God's Spirit moves on people today the have the privilege of choosing whether they will accept the covering of the Blood of Christ and be saved, spending eternity in heaven or rejecting Christ and spending eternity in Hell."

Numbers of hands were lifted at the close of the service asking for prayer. The meeting will continue for the next two weeks.

YOU CAN'T TURN

him was Jess Ring, whom I knew quite well by now.

I must have stood there several moments in a daze. When I realized just what was going on, we were talking about the pretty weather and the good crop of corn in the adjoining field.

Dropping the vital subject of crops and weather, I said:

"I think I have made it clear in my letter just what I want, and no doubt these good friends of yours have told you. I am really quite glad to meet you, for your name will live in the history of these country folk for generations."

"I guess that's true," Floyd replied. "I do have a lot of friends and have tried to help them as they have helped me a lot. I always tried to treat them square and they treated me that way."

Wary of Question

"Suppose you tell me just how and when you decided that a life of crime was the only thing you could do?" I began.

"Well, that's a fair question, but you're not going to print anything that will lay a job on me as long as it's going to hurt me," he replied.

"As a kid growing up, I just loafed around like the rest of the kids. Then I got in that trouble at Atkins about the postoffice and I thought I'd better tear out of the country and get me a job."

"I did for a while, but then I landed up in St. Louis and pulled that job and of course they got me and took me back to serve my time up in Jeff City."

Mark Was On Him

"I was just a green country kid that got caught on a job that I didn't know much about, but I guess that was the job that put the mark on me. I could never shake it off. Yes, I tried," he said, his voice neither the bellow of a bully, nor the snarl of a frightened fugitive.

"After I got out of serving my time in Jeff City, I really didn't figure to go on with a life of that kind, but every place I went they picked me up."

"I came to Okmulgee and they picked me up; I tried working in the oil fields and every time something happened, the law came out and got me. Hounded By Law

"I finally left the state and went to Colorado and was looking for a job in Pueblo when they picked me up as a vag and gave me 60 days."

"When I got out I went to Kansas City and the second day there they got me again. I really don't know what they got me for, but I was in the pen for 30 days. Then I went to Ohio and was picked up in Akron and later in Toledo."

"I couldn't shake those guys off no matter where I went. I went back to Jeff City and met Bill Miller. By then, I decided I'd just as well get the goods as have the name, and once you got started in this game you can't turn back."

"I guess after I went back to Kansas City I did go from bad to worse. I knew I could never live with my wife and kid and make a decent living and I had that sure gets you ahead and forget a lot of things that I had to be doing."

Talks of His Child

"I guess I've been accused of everything that has happened except the kidnapping of the Lindbergh child," he declared.

"And, talking of children, the thing that makes me sore at this Bureau (the late C. A. Burns, chief of the state crime bureau) and his laws are the way they treat 'em."

"Tulsah took spring."

"It ain't the names that they called me that makes me sore; I may be an alley rat or a skunk or even worse, but that didn't give them a right to tell that kid that he could never amount to anything as long as he has a father like me."

"That kid can't help who his father is or what he does, but he does think he's the world of me and I sure think he's all right, too."

"What," I pursued, "are the things you have done that you have been accused of, the things nearer the truth than anything else? I mean, of course, what you have done in a criminal way."

Mostly Bank Holdups

"Say," he retorted, "What do you want? A confession?"

"No, not that at all, but just in a general way the highlights of your career."

"I guess I've done more bank hold-ups than anything else, together with holding up payrolls. It was all bonded money and no one ever lost anything except the big boys."

"I never shot at a fellow in my life unless I was forced into it by some trap and then it was that or else."

"How many banks and payrolls have you rubbed up to this time?"

"I ain't gonna tell you that, but when I first went to Morris to pull that one, it was my 32nd. Here and in the case too."

Later, Floyd set his total bank robberies at 60, and boasted of an aggregate haul of $500,000, a figure much disputed.

Divided the Loot

"What did you do with all that money?"

"It wasn't all mine. I split it and in this game it ain't the money that counts, but the safety that money can help you get."

The tall pecans no longer cast their shadows. It was almost dark. The highway was over. I thanked Floyd, and told him I hoped to publish it some day.

"Good-by," he said, and walked over toward his car. The dim outline of a man I hadn't seen before was emerging from the gully. "I've al-

AN OPEN LETTER

Information comes to me that it is rumored in Hempstead County that the present County Officials and the County Officials-elect are connected with the ring of politicians that is trying to force the "Grab Amendment" on the people; and that said amendment is being sponsored by said officials in Hempstead County.

As for myself, I wish to say that I am not now, and have never been, for Amendment No. 21, known as the "Grab Amendment." In my opinion, it is unfair, for the reason that:

(1). If it is passed it would take effect immediately and give the officials a four year term, when they were only elected for two years. I realize that I would profit by it, but such political trickery and scheming as in my judgment is behind this amendment is absolutely destroying our government; and regardless of the personal gain it would mean to me, in fairness to my friends, and to good government, I am unalterably opposed to said amendment.

(2). Because said amendment does not include the office of Representative; and by reason thereof a man of ordinary means would be prohibited from running for the office of Representative at the election when only Representatives and Congressmen were to be elected, because the last Primary election in Hempstead County, including the run-off, cost the candidates a total sum of $1200.00. On this basis assuming that six candidates run for Representative the fees to have their names placed on the ticket would cost them $200.00 each, which is very unfair.

I desire to say that I am, also, against the County Salary Act for the following reasons:

(1). Because it will not reduce taxes one penny, which was admitted by its sponsors in open meeting held in the City Hall in Hope, Arkansas.

(2). Because it will not benefit those who have mortgages and deeds recorded or have work done in the County Clerk's office. The fees for such work will remain the same, and there will be no saving to the people in that way.

(3). Because amendment No. 11, which is the law, and I am informed by competent legal authority, has been construed by the Supreme Court of our state, prohibits a County from issuing warrants unless there are funds with which to take up such warrants, and makes it a penitentiary offense for any County Official to take part in any way in contracting debts in excess of the County revenue. Therefore, the said amendment absolutely prohibits the County script from depreciation in value and insures all script to be worth one hundred cents on the dollar.

It is to be deeply regretted that our County Paper, "Hope Star" in its desperation to force the "County Salary Act" on the people, has seen fit to bring additional embarrassment, humiliation and grief to the family of Louie Frantz by publishing a long article purporting to voice sympathy for this family in their sad bereavement, and advertise to the world their lack of a fair share of this world's goods to enable them to live comfortably, when the only design was to mention this incident to bring the family, and the loved ones of the deceased, before the public in order to carry out their purpose in passing the "County Salary Act." However, the many good people in the rural districts of Hempstead County are fully aware of the attitude of certain people with respect to honest, hard-working farmers, who have been unable, because of no fault of theirs, to get a fair return on the products of their toil, in order to support their families.

If the County Judge is so sympathetic, interested and heart broken by reason of the illness of the people in the rural districts, who are in financial difficulties, why doesn't he contribute to their aid some of the money that he is giving the Experiment Station, and other institutions, the government of which the County has no control or voice over whatsoever.

There is a strong effort being made by the sponsors of said County Salary Act to lead the people to believe that it would not affect the Sheriff's office. This is absolutely untrue. It is my contention, and the facts will bear me out, that the compensation for the Sheriff of the County should be increased instead of reduced. It has always been true that crime follows depression and unrest. The Sheriff's office is one of the most important offices in the County; and with conditions as they are, and crime increasing, the people expect the Sheriff's office to function promptly and efficiently, which it cannot do unless the Sheriff and his deputies receive a reasonable compensation for their services, and in this I believe all right thinking people will agree.

With all due respect to my opponents, I feel that I was elected on my promises to enforce the law, as the Sheriff is required to do. The main reason that the United States Department of Justice Agents are able to enforce the Federal Law is because the government provides for expenses for agents in running down crime. Under the proposed County Salary Act the Sheriff would not have any expense account at all. The emoluments of the Sheriff's office are very much reduced now in that the assessed valuation of the property of the County has depreciated forty-five per cent, and the collection of the automobile license has been taken from the Sheriff's office. If the proposed County Salary Act is adopted it will make it impossible for me to carry out my promises to enforce the law as it should be enforced.

Another fact, those wanting to reduce the Sheriff's fees apparently do not take into consideration is that the cost of living has, also, doubled during the past year. I, also, wish to mention the fact that the fees fixed by the proposed County Salary Act are not at all what the sponsors of the said Act represented at their meetings before the Salary Act was initiated.

In justice to my friends, I feel that I owe them this explanation, relative to these matters. And for the reasons, hereinbefore stated, I think we should vote against Amendment No. 21, (The Grab Amendment), and should vote against the "County Salary Act."

Vote against Amendment No. 21, and against the "County Salary Act" by marking your ballot as follows:

Judge Stephens Meets Himself Coming Back

In 1930 Judge Stephens was a candidate for County Judge and was defeated. In 1932 he was again a candidate for County Judge, and at the time of his announcement became deeply concerned for the taxpayers of Hempstead County, and inserted a plank in his platform providing for a reduction of the salary from Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000.00) to Eighteen Hundred Dollars ($1800.00) per annum. The law fixed the salary of the County Judge at Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000.00); but the Judge was so interested in the people that he offered to accept the office for Eighteen Hundred Dollars ($1800.00) per year, which was his bid for their votes.

It is passing strange that the Judge was not concerned about the "dear people" with respect to the salary of the County Judge when he ran in 1930, which was one of the hardest years by reason of the long drought that Hempstead County has ever experienced; and not until he was defeated did the "still small voice" speak to him in the interest of humanity and the taxpayers. He told the people in 1932 from every platform in the county that he would take the office for Eighteen Hundred Dollars ($1800.00) per annum. He was elected. He ran in 1934 for his second term and did not advise the voters that he had any change of heart with respect to their interests and the salary that he would receive. Immediately after he received his nomination for a second term the Taxpayers' League sponsored a County Salary Act, in which it is provided that the County Judge shall receive Twenty-seven Hundred Dollars ($2700.00) per annum for his salary. For some reason better known to himself, he seems to have forgotten his interest in the "dear people" and especially the promise that he made to accept the office for Eighteen Hundred Dollars ($1800.00) per year, for we have not heard of his appearing before the Taxpayers' League in opposition to the Twenty-seven Hundred Dollars ($2700.00) per year. He seems to be perfectly willing notwithstanding his promise to the people, to accept the Nine Hundred Dollars ($900.00) over and above what he agreed to take the office for. And if we are rightly informed, he is, also, in league with the manipulators of the "Grab Amendment" to force down the throats of the voters an additional two years in office when they only voted for him to have a two-year term.

In offering my candidacy for the office of County Judge, I want to say to the people, I have been a citizen and taxpayer of the county for 26 years, and I believe those who know me will vouch for the statement that I am qualified to give the county and efficient, businesslike and fair administration. I realize that the depression has wrought havoc and ruin in the various businesses and industries of our county; I, also, realize that the office of County Judge does not require all of a man's time, as it has only been a short time since the office was filled by good men, who rendered efficient service for Twelve Hundred Dollars ($1200.00) a year.

I WILL TAKE THE OFFICE FOR FIFTEEN HUNDRED DOLLARS ($1500.00) PER YEAR. IN OTHER WORDS, I PROPOSE WHEN I AM ELECTED TO GIVE BACK TO HEMPSTEAD COUNTY ALL SALARY OVER AND ABOVE FIFTEEN HUNDRED DOLLARS ($1500.00) PER YEAR. AND I FURTHER PROMISE TO STAY WITH THE PROMISE I MAKE, AND NOT AS SOON AS I AM ELECTED START SCHEMING TO DEVISE SOME PLAN OR WAY TO REPUDIATE MY PROMISE, AND AN ADDITIONAL NINE HUNDRED DOLLARS ($900.00) OVER AND ABOVE WHAT I AGREED TO TAKE THE OFFICE FOR, WHICH IS EXACTLY WHAT JUDGE STEPHENS HAS DONE.

Investigate my record. REMEMBER THAT JUDGE STEPHENS AGREED TO TAKE THE OFFICE FOR EIGHTEEN HUNDRED DOLLARS ($1800.00) PER YEAR, WHICH IS THREE HUNDRED DOLLARS ($300.00) MORE THAN SHOULD BE PAID, AND WHICH IS SIX HUNDRED DOLLARS ($600.00) MORE THAN JUDGE STEPHENS IS WORTH.

If you are in favor of efficient services at a cost commensurate with the work to be done vote for C. F. ERWIN FOR COUNTY AND PROBATE JUDGE NEXT TUESDAY.

With Pauline Lord, one of America's foremost stage actresses, in the title role and W. C. Fields and Zasu Pitts in the other principal featured roles, Paramount's delightful picturization of the immortal "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," comes to the Saenger Sunday and Monday. It brings to the lovers of the lovers of both the story and the play an extraordinarily convincing and moving finalization of the tale, through the medium of competent acting by a host of talented players.

After having resisted the lures of the motion pictures for years Miss Lord finally capitulated for the opportunity of playing "Mrs. Wiggs" and plays the quaint motherly and whimsical character with much charm and deftness.

W. C. Fields, fresh from his recent starring triumphs, is teamed with Zasu Pitts. These two, as the maiden lady and the mail-order answer to her prayer for a husband, provide the film with its uproarious comedy. But that is not the end of good things. There are five of Hollywood's juvenile stars cast in the roles of "Mrs. Wiggs" numerous progeny, including Jimmy Butler and George Breakston and little Virginia Weidler.

the comptroller said. The new act provides "the attorney general shall be the attorney for all state officials, departments, institutions and agencies, and whenever any officer or department, institution or agency of the state needs the services of an attorney the matter shall be certified to the attorney general for attention."

Section 2 provides that "all office work and advice for state officials, departments, institutions and agencies shall be given by the attorney general and his assistants, and no special counsel shall be employed or additional expense paid for such services."

The attorney general has claimed that collection of delinquent taxes over the state does not come under "office work," hence he has right to employ special counsel.

Section 5 of the new act is the comptroller's answer to this contention. It provides that:

"If in the opinion of the attorney general, it shall at any time be necessary to employ special counsel to prosecute any suit brought on behalf of the state or defend a suit brought against the officials, board, commission, or agency of the state, the attorney general may, with the approval of the governor, employ special counsel. The compensation of such counsel shall be fixed by the court where such litigation is pending with the written approval of the governor and the attorney general."

No suit has been instituted against employment of the special attorneys to make a test case. The comments were made to the United Press for a presentation of both sides of an old argument that has thundered through political campaigns the past several years.

An Appeal To The Voters And Taxpayers Of Hempstead County, Arkansas

On the ticket at the General Election on Tuesday, November 6, 1934, you will have the privilege of voting for or against Initiative Act No. 1 of Hempstead County, Arkansas, which is the County Salary Act. I feel that when you understand the situation that exists in this County, you will vote for the County Salary Act. This is a fair act, and was carefully drawn, and is for the best interest of the taxpayers and voters of Hempstead County; and unless this County Salary Act is adopted, the financial condition of Hempstead County is going to be in a serious situation.

There are people going around the County who don't understand this salary act; but if you will check back you will find that some of these people are anxious to keep the present fee system in operation for their own financial gain.

It has already been pointed out that in the last four years, the assessments on property in Hempstead County have declined 45%; so the revenue of this county, on the same millage rate, is now 45% less than it was five years ago. The County expenses must be reduced accordingly, and the purpose of this salary act is to reduce expenses, and, at the same time, to pay the office holders a fair and reasonable compensation.

Under the salary act, the County Clerk will draw $2,700 per year, net, and his deputy will draw $1,200 per year, net.

The Circuit Clerk will draw $2,700 per year, net, and his deputy will draw $1,200 per year, net.

The assessor will draw $2,700 per year, net, and his deputy will draw $1,200 per year, net.

The County Treasurer will draw $2,700 per year, net.

You know that these are fair and reasonable salaries. What citizen and taxpayer is there in Hempstead County who would not be happy to receive a salary of $2,700 per year, net, for the next two years?

The County Judge's Office
Now, the next salary is that of the County Judge; and those people opposed to the salary act are trying to prejudice the voters by telling them that under this act the salary of the County Judge is raised. This is not true. Under the law in Arkansas at the present time, the salary of the County Judge of Hempstead County is $3,000 per year. Under the proposed salary act, the County Judge can only receive $2,700 per year. Now when I took office in Hempstead County two years ago, I told the people I would only draw $1,800 per year salary, and that is all I have drawn; and I tell you now that in the next two years I am only going to draw $1,800 per year salary, regardless of the salary act.

But this salary of $2,700 per year was put in the salary act to take care of the situation that will arise when some other man than myself becomes County Judge. During the next two years, I will only draw $1,800 per year, salary, and do not let anybody tell you that this County Salary Act was arranged to boost my salary. That is not so. I asked the committee that drew this salary bill to fix the salary of the County Judge at $1,800 per year because that was all I was going to draw. They saw fit to fix it at $2,700, but I only intend to draw $1,800, just as I have stated.

As a matter of fact, I think that the scale of salaries all through this act is a little too high. If it had been left to me individually, I would have made the whole scale lower. But even with the salaries set as high as they are, the act will still save Hempstead County over $5,000.00 per year; and, therefore, I am in favor of it.

The Sheriff's Office
Now, people are going around telling you that under this act the Sheriff of Hempstead County will not receive a fair compensation. That is no true. Under this act the Sheriff of Hempstead County will receive exactly the same fees and mileage that every Sheriff in Hempstead County received up to 1921, and I submit that the Sheriffs who served Hempstead County during that period of time were able to make a good living out of the job, and any other Sheriff can do the same now. The provisions in this salary act are copied from the law as it existed in Arkansas up to 1921.

I WAS NOMINATED TO REDUCE THE EXPENSES OF THE COUNTY GOVERNMENT AND THE INDIVIDUAL TAXPAYER TO AN ECONOMICAL BASIS, AND IF I NOW HAVE A REPUBLICAN OPPONENT BECAUSE OF MY EFFORTS IN THIS DIRECTION I WILL LEAVE THAT ISSUE SAFELY IN THE HANDS OF HEMPSTEAD COUNTY'S DEMOCRATIC VOTERS ON ELECTION DAY.

H. M. Stephens County Judge

Regarding the feeding of prisoners, the Sheriff of Hempstead County, under this salary act, will receive seventy-five cents per day per prisoner, and that was the scale that existed for a long, long time. The Sheriff will receive the water, lights, heat and bedding at the jail furnished by the County, and will then receive seventy-five cents per day per prisoner for feeding them. In other words, the Sheriff will get the same accommodations that he has always received; except instead of getting $1 per day for feeding the prisoners, he will get seventy-five cents per day, under this salary act.

It has been stated over the county by misinformed people that under the Salary Act the Sheriff can only receive fees for summoning two people in any criminal case, if this act goes into effect. That statement is a mistake. The law only provides that the Sheriff can only make two returns in any case. He can serve as many people as the order calls for, and still receive fees for serving each one. So do not be misled by any statement on this point. The law on this point in the County Salary Act is copied from Crawford and Moses digest of 1921.

Now I have figured it up, and this salary act will save Hempstead County $5,000 per year. Unless we do start saving Hempstead County money, then the County will be in the red, and your scrip will go down, and when you serve on the Grand Jury or Petit Jury, you will not be able to get your money in cash promptly as you have done heretofore.

BESIDES THAT, THE COUNTY WILL BE FACED WITH THE ALTERNATIVE OF LETTING OUT EITHER THE COUNTY AGENT, THE HOME DEMONSTRATION AGENT, THE COUNTY HEALTH NURSE, OR THE COUNTY PHYSICIAN, OR SUSPENDING THE SENDING OF TUBERCULAR PATIENTS TO BOONEVILLE, OR SUSPENDING THE AID TO THE SICK AND UNFORTUNATES IN THE LOCAL HOSPITALS. ARE YOU WILLING FOR HEMPSTEAD COUNTY TO STOP THESE THINGS IN ORDER THAT THE OFFICE HOLDERS OF HEMPSTEAD COUNTY MAY RECEIVE HIGH FEES THAT WERE FIXED IN 1921 AND 1923, AND WHICH FEES ARE HIGHER THAN EVER EXISTED IN ARKANSAS UP TO 1921?

People working against this act will tell you that the County is paying its bills now. The only reason why the County is paying its bills now is because John Ridgill, as your County Assessor, only drew $2,100 as assessor, when he could have drawn $3,000; and H. M. Stephens, your County Judge, only drew $1,800 per year, when he could have drawn $3,000. During the last two years, John Ridgill and H. M. Stephens have left in the Treasury of Hempstead County, $4,200 that they could have drawn under the law as it then existed. If this $4,200 had been taken out of the Treasury of Hempstead County, there would not be any money in the County's General Fund today. If these men, as your County Assessor and County Judge, for the past two years have both reduced their salaries, is it asking too much of the other office holders of Hempstead County, Arkansas, to take a sane and sensible reduction in their salaries?

Now, the only way that the salaries can be reduced is by the passage of this County Salary Act. There is no way that the salaries can be reduced except: by either voluntary action of the officers in the one instance, or the passage of this act in the other. The officers are apparently not going to voluntarily reduce their salaries, so the only thing for you to do as a citizen and taxpayer, is to vote for the Hempstead County Salary Act, and put Hempstead County's affairs on a business-like basis. The officers will be receiving fair compensation, and the County will still have money to support the necessary agencies of Government. I appeal to you to vote for the County Salary Act.

A Letter to the People From the Governor:

Vote for proposed Amendments Nos. 19 and 20, and protect yourselves against further or future increase in your rates of taxation, and against the sale of state bonds. These are known as "Futrell Amendments."

Leave it to the people to say whether or not taxes shall be raised or bonds issued. By putting these Amendments into the Constitution, the people will take into their own hands the powers that have been used to wreck this state.

If these Amendments are adopted, this State will never again become financially bankrupt.

YES, M'DEAR, I HAVE BOUGHT A RACE HORSE, FOR A TRIFLING SUM—EGAD, YOU MAY THINK IT A BLUNDERING INVESTMENT, BUT MOST OF THE GREAT MONEY HORSES STARTED THEIR FAME FROM A MODEST PURCHASE PRICE! — WITH IT GOES THE SHREWD KNOWLEDGE OF HORSE QUALITY — AND THAT, I HAVE — COMING FROM A FAMILY OF HORSE JUDGES!

YES—THERE WERE SOME WHO ALWAYS HAD A POSSE AFTER THEM! AND THERE WAS YOUR UNCLE AMBROSE—HE OPERATED A HORSE-CAR ON THE OLD 12TH STREET LINE!

TAKE THE SNATCH OFF THOSE MUFFINS!

FROM AN OLD LINE OF HORSE LAUGHS

YOUR RECORDS SHOW THAT HE DIDN'T WORK ON TH' DAY TH' BANK WAS HELD UP. JUST POINT HIM OUT TO ME.

HE DON'T SEEM LIKE THAT KIND OF A FELLER. HE'S MILD LOOKIN'—KIND OF SISSIE.

I CAN'T FIGGER HOW SO MANY CAN FIND SOMETHIN' TO SEE TH' BOSS ABOUT, JUST AT A TIME LIKE THIS—SO THEY CAN BE IN ON TH' BIG MOMENT WHEN ANYTHING HAPPENS HERE.

OH, THEY SAVE SOMETHIN' TO SEE HIM ABOUT, FOR INSTANCE, IF SOMETHIN' COMES UP TO SEE HIM ABOUT, WHY, THEY JUST SAVE THAT TLL SOMETHIN' HAPPENS. WATCH THAT GUY, THERE, FALL IN LINE.

THE CROWDED MOMENT.

BUT—AFTER MISTER X, I MEAN, TH' PRINCE, FELL IN LOVE WITH— WITH TH' AMERICAN GIRL, DIDN'T HE EVER MARRY SOMEONE ELSE?

NO, HE HASN'T LOOKED AT A GIRL SINCE

CAN YOU IMAGINE A GIRL TURNING HIM DOWN? THINK OF THE SOCIAL POSITION, MONEY AND PRESTIGE THAT HE COULD OFFER HER—AND SHE REFUSED HIM BECAUSE SHE DIDN'T LOVE HIM—

HE MUST BE FRIGHTFULLY QUANT

HA HA HA

I CAN'T SEE WHERE LOVE ENTERS INTO SUCH A PROPOSITION

NO—I NEVER DREAMED THERE WERE ANY SUCH OLD FASHIONED GIRLS LEFT

OH, THOSE AWFUL PEOPLE

GEE, TH' BIG SHOTS MAD!

YEAH—HE MUFFED TH' DEAL!

WITH ALLEY OOP MARRYING GUZZLE'S DAUGHTER TOMORROW, I DON'T SEE WHAT YOU EXPECT TO GAIN BY HOLDING ME PRISONER

NOBODY WILL CARE MUCH, IF I'M MISSING—AND MY FATHER HAS NOTHING WITH WHICH TO RANSOM ME—

BUT, IF YOU'RE LOOKING FOR REVENGE, I CAN TELL YOU HOW TO GET EVEN WITH GUZ AND OOP, AT ONE SWOOP!

AWRIGHT, LET'S HEAR IT!

WHY DON'T YOU GRAB THE PRINCESS??

WASH AND EASY W APPEAR IN THEIR DISGUISES.

AND ARE SOON HIDDEN IN A CARTLOAD OF HAY.

AN HOUR LATER, THEY REACH THE KANDELABRAN BORDER.

BUT THE DRIVER'S FRIEND ISN'T ON DUTY. AN—OTHER OFFICIAL, A SURLY BOZO, GLARES SUSPICIOUSLY AT THE HAY, AND JABS IT VICIOUSLY WITH HIS BAYONET.

HEY! DON'T DO DOT!

SHUD UP! I GOT TO MAKE SURE DERE EN'T NO MONKEY BUSINESS AFOOT.
